IS THIS THE COBBLERS' SAVIOUR?

UNFINISHED BUSINESS: The Cardozas' six-bedroom Northamptonshire home and the East Stand at Sixfields both remain partially built as Cobblers' chairman David Cardoza continues to seek a buyer for his family's stake in Northampton Town football club. Mr Cardoza's company County Developments faces a hearing at Birmingham County Court today.

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Former Oxford United chairman Kelvin Thomas is understood to be in talks about taking over crisis-hit Northampton Town Football Club.

The radio station owner, who managed The U's from 2008-2012, is believed to be a part of a small consortium interested in taking control of the troubled club.

A spokesman for Shaq-Fu, a US-based radio station which Mr Thomas owns, confirmed he is currently in the UK.

Mr Thomas already has a strong relationship with Cobblers boss Chris Wilder, having made him the manager of Oxford Utd back in 2008 when he was just two months into the job.

And just this January, he became the senior advisor to the chairman at Torquay United, but soon left in May.

The news comes after a nightmare week for Northampton, which missed the deadline to repay a £10.25m loan, and received a winding-up petition.

This picture was sent in by a reader who spotted this 'no flytipping!' sign on The Mounts, in Northampton, which had presumably been ripped off a lamppost and thrown on the floor. The sign was also sitting next to a toy car which had been dumped in the street.

Why does the world of football have to be like this?

The first of a string of court battles connected to Northampton Town Football Club was due to begin today in Birmingham.

County Developments, the company created to build the new East Stand, had to answer a petition from the builders Buckingham who claim they are owed £3 million for work already carried out.

County Developments has two directors: Cobblers Chairman David Cardoza and his father Anthony.

Mr Cardoza, having accepted a £10million loan from Northampton Borough Council to get the East Stand built for the Cobblers, is now aiming to sell his stake in the club and move on.

He had been at pains to tell Northampton fans that he was committed to the club and the area and the construction of his six bedroom house in the Bramptons was often cited as evidence of this.

The house is half built and the stadium is half built.

I hear that for just over a million the house could be yours and that part of the Cardoza family is already in Canada pursuing other business interests.

Many fans are angry with Mr Cardoza for the predicament the club is now in.

However the last public statement he made was reassuring supporters that everything would turn out all right in the end.

That may yet be the case and many more people in Northampton than the few thousand who loyally cheer on the Teyn each week would be pleased to hear it.

It is just a shame that this seems to be the way things happen in football.

The Saints contracted Buckingham to build a new stand at Franklins Gardens and that will soon be open.

Meanwhile not only do the Cobblers not have a stand, there is a threat that they may not even have a club unless both the council and the inland revenue are paid money they are owed.

The history of Cobblers fans is that they have gone the extra mile to save their club in the past, let's hope that doesn't have to happen again.

MP fought off a drunken robber

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Tory MP Michael Ellis told a court how he had to fight off drunken Eastern European man who attacked him as he left a restaurant.

Juraj Adam, 38, approached the MP for Northampton North 'garbling incoherently' as he walked along the Strand in central London with two colleagues, after 10pm on June 17.

Adam followed Mr Ellis, 48, down the street asking for money, at one point barging him in the shoulder as he crossed the road near Charing Cross station to try and get away from him.

The MP told Adam he was going to call the police, but when he took his Nokia Lumia phone out the defendant grabbed it.

Mr Ellis 'tightened his grip', shouting for police and stamping on the Adam's foot 'with his full force' during a 30-second struggle.

He managed to hold on to his phone when one of his colleagues intervened and pulled Adam off him, but it had been bent, leaving the glass protruding 'ever so slightly' from the casing.

Adam was arrested on June 19 and charged with using threatening and abusive behaviour and causing criminal damage.

But he failed to turn up for trial at Hammersmith Magistrates' Court and was convicted of both charges.

A warrant was issued for his arrest so he can be sentenced.

Spaniel stolen from outside store

A family have been left heartbroken after their dog was taken from outside a branch of Tesco.

The adult dog had been tied to a tree while its owners went into the shop.

At that point, somebody untied the dog and walked off with it in the direction of Market Hill. The dog is white with black ears, black markings on its body and spots on the left side of its muzzle.

Saved by Sauls of Spratton

Reporter Lawrence John sees Wales suffer Rugby World Cup heartbreak

What you are left with in the end is noise.

The deafening noise of victory bursting all around you while you yourself are wrapped in defeat, which is a silent contemplation of what was, what could have been, but what ultimately is happening now. In my case Wales were out of the Rugby World Cup.

For 80 minutes my hopes, the team's dreams and a nation's desire for glory were thrown to the left, to the right and shaken like a snow globe.

But when the referee blew his final whistle it all went silent expect for the noise made by the South Africans. They had won, Wales had lost and that was a fact.

When I walked to the ground I was surrounded by thousands of Springbok supporters. They had clearly traveled from near and far, indeed the South African couple I met, Irma and Corrie, had come from Johannesburg to watch the game.

While I was walking along in what was a field of green and gold, I was fully aware Wales were up against one of the heavyweight giants of world rugby.

I am well aware Wales have only beaten them twice in 109 years. Once in 1999 – the first and only time in the twentieth century – and last autumn, 2014.

The game ebbed and flowed as did dreams of a Welsh victory. But at half time Wales 13 South Africa 12 was not looking too bad. The second half flew by. Wales led for so long and still had time to win. They were 19-18 with less than 10 minutes to go.

But then The Boks fashioned a try and in those fatal steps, South African scrum half Fourie de Preez poured a huge bucket of South African cold water on the Welsh embers of a victory. In an instant it was gone, it was all over.

For me, Twickenham, was where the Welsh team's rugby adventure came to a shuddering, if not glorious, halt.

For the Welsh fans, hope had left soon after the Boks scored and as for the fat lady I think I heard a few mumbles and saw the tail lights of her car disappearing around a corner. She had to wait a long time before she broke into song, indeed she started when the referee blew his final whistle.

The concourse outside the press box was full of chatter, mainly of happy Springbok fans. The Welsh were as you can imagine – rather subdued. I left in silence. My thoughts my only companion. This was until I decided to get something to eat. And there like an oasis was Sauls of

WORLD CUP: Sauls of Spratton, above, and Springbok fans Irma and Corrie had come from Johannesburg

Spratton. You had to know which outlet you were looking for as each company could not advertise – it was all Rugby World Cup logos. Luckily I knew which one it was and as I tucked into my sausage, gravy and mash from Northamptonshire, I had been saved. Comfort food was the sticky plaster on the cut of defeat I needed.

Anyway, there is the 2016 Six Nations, The British and Irish Lions in 2017 and the Rugby World Cup in 2019. As a fan, there is always another Everest to climb, another challenge on the horizon. Thanks to a taste of Northamptonshire at Twickenham, things were not too bad after all.

Distraction thefts spark police alert

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A spate of distraction thefts in supermarket car parks across Northants have prompted a police warning to shoppers across the county.

People are being urged to be vigilant after 32 such incidents have been reported in the past five months from May to October.

The majority of the thefts have happened in supermarket car parks in Northampton, Kettering, Daventry, Towcester, Wellingborough and Corby.

In all of these incidents, the victim – often a woman on her own – has been approached by someone who has asked for directions.

The victim is usually approached while they are loading their shopping into their car or are about to drive off. As the victim is distracted – for example, on some occasions the offender has produced a map which they encourage the victim to look at – a second person has removed items from their bag or purse, from the boot or passenger seat of the car.

In most cases, it appears the victim has been spotted by offenders in the store or at the cashpoint, who has then seen them enter their PIN.

Detective Sergeant Johnny Campbell says the trend is concerning and is urging shoppers to be alert to any suspicious behaviour.

"I would urge everyone, in particular anyone shopping on their own, to be alert to this type of distraction theft. Shield your PIN when you use your cards and be aware of the people around you," he said.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

T-SHIRTS: Hat-Trick Designs sum up the financial crisis at Northampton Town

Getting shirty over club's calamity

Even in a crisis there is comedy and amongst Northampton Town Football Club fans it is no different.

Hat-Trick Designs are producing four individual and unique T shirts about the situation at The Cobblers.

The missing £10.25m, the money owed to the East Stand builders and the borough council wanting its money back and fans asking where the money gone have been immortalised in the T shirt designs.

On their Facebook page they state: "Had some requests for some t-shirts in response to the current situation at Northampton Town FC (missing £10.25m, winding up petitions, legal action etc).

"For what it's worth, 20% of all sales will go to the Trust (NTFC Supporters Ltd) as a small gesture during these troubled times!"

Cobblers debt crisis mounts

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A week of turmoil at crisis-hit Northampton Town has seen the club's debt mount by a five-figure sum, after Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs launched a winding-up petition against them for unpaid taxes.

To make matters even worse at Sixfields stadium, the firm employed to build the new East Stand, Buckingham Group, has now claimed it is owed nearly £3 million.

The nightmare week started last Thursday, when the taxman issued a winding-up petition to recover unpaid taxes – believed to be a five-figure sum.

It came on the day the club had been ordered to repay a £10.25 million loan, for the redevelopment of Sixfields stadium, back to Northampton Borough Council. But by close of play, no payment had been received.

On Monday, Buckingham Group dealt a new blow by revealing it is chasing £2.98 million from the firm employed to oversee the redevelopment work at Sixfields – County Development Northampton Ltd – which is owned by Cobblers chairman David Cardoza.

The firm revealed 1st Land Ltd, the first company employed to oversee the work, made only two payments totalling £441,917, and that CDNL, which then took over the contract, 'did not pay a penny.'

As a result, CDNL has been issued with a winding-up petition, which will be presented in court today (Thursday).

Man killed in chip pan house blaze

A 46-year-old man has died after a chip pan caught fire at a house in Northants, in which two other people escaped from the blaze.

Emergency services were called at 7.55pm last Saturday to a house in Brixham Walk, Corby.

On arrival, firefighters found a well-developed fire spreading through the house.

At the height of the fire there were five pumps and 30 firefighters tackling the blaze.

A 24-year-old man and woman managed to escape via an upstairs window, but firefighters discovered the victim in the living room. Smoke alarms were found in a bag inside the property, with no batteries in them.

The fire is not being treated as suspicious.

CLASS CALL: Sam Gyimah, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Children, visits Northampton Academy gets to work on employability project

Northampton Academy welcomed a high-level guest last Thursday, to witness how it has been spearheading a scheme linking the worlds of education and work.

Sam Gyimah, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Children, visited the Academy to see the impact the initiative has been making for young people.

The academy, which teaches pupils from the poorest three per cent of families in the county, has been working with Northampton Enterprise Partnership's advisers on the project. Mr Gyimah was keen to learn what Northamptonshire has been doing to 'lead the way' as the programme begins to roll out nationally.

Speaking during his visit, he said: "I think what has been achieved in Northampton has been incredible. This scheme is about schools working with employers and for pupils to find those skills and their confidence to take advantage of fulfilling their opportunity. This is a way of young people being able to find what they want."

Minister praises new rail academy

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Transport minister Claire Perry is calling for a sign to go up at Northampton train station to tell the world the town is home to the National Training Academy for Rail.

She made the plea twice, once in her speech before she opened the state of the art facility in Kings Heath and again while talking to the Northants Herald & Post.

The minister said: "What I think is amazing about this (NTAR) is the opportunity it will provide to young people. "What I would like to see at Northampton train station is a sign telling people Northampton: Home of the National Training Academy for Rail. Rail is the 21st century transport and the industry of the future. We need skills brought into it and this is a good example of industry working together."

The new academy is an agreement between the National Skills Academy for Rail Engineering and the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills with support from the DfT provided half the funds to build the NTAR with Siemens contributing the other 50 per cent.

The 50/50 funding will release 50 per cent of the academy's training capacity to the wider UK industry, with the remainder used by Siemens' own rail sector.

Abandoned baby handed over to foster carers

A baby girl found abandoned in a cardboard box in Corby has been 'handed to foster carers'.

The girl, who was thought to be three to six-weeks-old when she was found in Ibsen Walk on September 28, had initially been cared for at Kettering General Hospital. Northants Police then made several appeals to the mother of the baby to come forward, urging her to let them help her.

But three weeks later, the mum still hasn't been found. A Northamptonshire

County Council spokesperson has now revealed that 'the baby is well and being looked after by foster carers.'

The baby was first discovered in the box, wrapped in a blue blanket and wearing just a nappy, outside a home in Ibsen Walk.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Helping young people

Cllr Danielle Stone

Cllr Danielle Stone is the leader of the Labour group on Northampton Borough Council. She writes a regular blog for the Northants Herald & Post

I am the leader of the Labour group of councillors, which is great. But we are in opposition, which isn't.

As Labour councillors we are great at holding the Conservative administration to account. We will be even better in administration so we can put our ideas for growing prosperity in the town into practice.

If we led the council we would have the well-being of our citizens as our number one priority. But we are in opposition. The only good thing is that in opposition we can indulge in some blue sky thinking.

So here is my blue sky thinking about young people and their needs. If I could, this is how I would help shape our town to ensure that not just the economy but our young people prosper.

As the leader of a prospering council with the Living wage for all employees I would talk to young people about what they want from their council. I would run youth conferences and forums and listen to young people and ask them a thing or two.

I would ask about peer education. Do young people want to be trained to do their own training on the issues of the day? – planned parenthood, anti bullying, safe sex, child sexual exploitation, domestic violence, setting up and managing projects, global linking with other youth groups.

I would ask about the democratic deficit. What do young people think about votes at 16? In this digital age should young people be consulted via their phones on issues that affect them? Should we have local and national election votes on line? Would that engage more young people?

I would ask about services. What are essential youth services and what are desirable youth services? Who should be running them? Where should they be located?

I would ask about opportunities. What are the essential opportunities that all young people should have? And what are the desirable ones?

Who should be providing them? I would ask young people about the balance between rights and responsibilities. Young people deserve a bright and happy future. They need to be the architects of that future with our commitment and our support.

In opposition we can indulge in blue sky thinking

Are Tories running council with fingers crossed?

Conservative finance guru Bill Parker says he's going to 'find' the £36M savings the county council needs to balance its budget.

Cllr Parker, pictured, commissioned an external review by Pricewaterhouse (PwC) in 2006 which concluded that the council had to achieve savings of £715m to balance the books by 2021, so the scale of the challenge has been clear for almost 10 years.

Having been in control for so long surely the administration knew how they were going to deliver the £68m of savings required this year when they agreed the budget.

Half the £32m of savings made so far this year have been achieved by raiding the council's reserves. This is a one off fix and suggests that the administration is running the County Council finances with their fingers crossed rather than having a "long term economic plan".

In 2005, 2009 and 2013 the Conservatives boosted their election chances by freezing council tax, but didn't tell the electorate that services would have to be cut. Now the cupboard is bare – what further cuts to services will we see in 2016 and 2017?

This council is on the verge of bankruptcy because of putting electoral success ahead of the right financial decisions. Children's Services are still in need of substantial improvement because of earlier cuts. How many more services will go into special measure because the council is cutting too deep, because of their financial incompetence?

Sympathy for abandoned baby girl left in box

This week the Northants Herald and Post reported how the baby girl who was abandoned in a cardboard box outside a house in Corby last month has been handed over to foster carers.

Northamptonshire Police have made several appeals for the baby's mum to come forward, but to no avail.

Our readers felt sad for the six-week-old baby that she is still without her mum, and here are a few of those reactions from our Facebook page 'NorthantsHeraldPost'.

JACKIE ALLEN: I would love her to bits and care for her. She's beautiful...there are so many ppl out there that can't have children..I think these kind of stories make me sad.. I lost my son who died some years ago after birth..I hope the mum is reunited with her baby girl.x

Retriever Joe is real hearo

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A deaf Northampton man and his loyal hearing dog have been shortlisted for the Specsavers Heroic Partnership of the Year Award.

The events which led to the nomination hark back to an evening in 2014 when Matthew Lunney, aged 37, was waiting in his car for a friend. A man dressed in dark clothing suddenly jumped out from the bushes and tried to break into his vehicle.

But luckily, Matthew was protected by his Golden Retriever, who suddenly leapt into the back of the car, and began barking furiously at the intruder.

Within seconds the assailant was so shocked by the dog – who had never even barked before – that he ran away towards some bushes, allowing Matthew the opportunity to make a quick escape to safety.

Matthew says he was very shaken up by the experience, but is now even more grateful for his loyal hearing dog Joe.

He said: "It dawned on me that if Joe hadn't been there, that man would have got into the car. Anything could have happened. I never expected this from my hearing dog – I was so proud of him.

HERO JOE: Matthew says he never expected his dog to be his rescuer

"Since then, my life has changed completely because if I am home alone, I am so confident I deliberately leave my hearing aids out. I know that Joe will always be listening for me and will alert me to any sounds he is trained to. He is my loyal ears and protector."

Matthew and his best friend will attend a star-studded awards ceremony in London, which will be hosted by one of the Charity's celebrity ambassadors - Dame Esther Rantzen.

The winner of the award will be revealed on Wednesday, November 4.

County's food and

BY STEVE SCOLES

steve.scoles@hpnorthants.co.uk

The cream of the county's culinary heroes were attending their own version of the oscars at the Carlsberg UK Food and Drink Awards 2015 – or #NorthantsFADA for short.

Derngate Theatre in Northampton was transformed into a glittering banqueting hall as 18 awards across the food and drink sector were handed out to the pick of 84 finalists.

Hardeep Singh presented the awards while Anna Murby hosted the evening. The food was prepared by Lee Scott of La Strada Nuovo in Towcester assisted by students from Northampton College who served belly pork followed by a white chocolate and fruit dessert.

Hardeep said: "I come to a lot of events like this and I don't expect to enjoy the food. It's been a great night."

Teams of college students were working throughout the week to create dishes using a host of local ingredients including a starter of local trout with beetroot textures using beetroot chutney from Limes Farm at Farthinghoe or a local goat cheese crostini, the goat cheese coming from triple finalists NeneView Dairy at Stanwick, a main course of pork provided by Booker and using apples from New Creation Farm at Nether Heyford and honey from Beeline Apiculture at Bozeat, while the pudding was a panna cotta made with local white chocolate from Belfair Chocolates in Brackley and honeyed damson preserve from Nature's Fayre in Thrapston.

Meanwhile, two former Northampton College students took centre stage by dominating the coveted Young Chef of the Year category.

Tamsin Hamilton-Testrope, who completed her Level 3 course at Northampton College last year and is now studying Hospitality Management and Culinary Arts at Sheffield University, won the award for her work at Kettering Park Hotel.

She will now enjoy a two day trip to London to spend a day with top chef Jacob Kenedy at his award-winning restaurant Bocco di Lupo followed by a day at Le Gavroche where she will lunch with Michel Roux Jnr – a prize generously provided by category sponsor Booker.

FEEL GOOD FACTOR

Good living, getting out there and getting on with it in Northants

Boy snaps competition winning pic

A nine-year-old boy with an eye for a lens and a love for the countryside has been crowned the winner of a national photography competition.

Ieuan Roden, from Kettering, has won first place in the under 14 category of the National Meadows photography competition, organised by Save our Magnificent Meadows project.

The winning photo, snapped by Ieuan, is a close-up of two flowers in Glapthorn, near Oundle, which the budding photographer has titled 'Greater stitchwort beauty'.

The judges said of Ieuan's picture 'it provides a glimpse of a beauty often missed - so delicate and plays with the light'.

Officers sign up

A group of police officers are learning sign language in a bid to help improve how they communicate with deaf people.

Sixteen officers have signed up to the 36-week British Sign Language (BSL) course, which is being run this academic year.

The course is undertaken by frontline officers, including those in safer community teams, CID officer and PCSOs.

The course is geared to give officers essential skills and knowledge of sign language but also tailored to officers' needs. The course is accredited British Sign Language and all officers participating will be trained to BSL Levels 1 and 2. This will enable them to hold basic conversation with the deaf members of the community.

Inspector Inam Khan, the Equality and Diversity Manager, said: "It's great that our officers are undertaking this course.

"Having officers who can sign will help to build trust and strengthen relationships with our deaf communities. Crucially, it will help when officers attend incidents or engage with the deaf community."

Strongest man and woman

The search for the strongest man and woman in Northants will culminate in a competition this weekend.

The event, hosted by Alpha Training Gym, will also merge with a family fun day and takes place in Unit 5 at Parkham Industrial Estate, in Rushden this Sunday between 10am - 6pm.

The competition will see men and women split up into different weight sections, where they will be tested in a range of events including log, dead lift, dumbbell and more.

It costs £20 to enter, and you can win £250. Call 07503169041 for more details.

QUIZ: CALL MY BLUFF

Each week Adam Jacot de Boinod, author of The Meaning of Tingo, sets us a word challenge from Northamptonshire dialect. Can you get it?

The definitive glossaries were composed for many counties across the mid-Victorian era. In 1851 Thomas Steenberg published 'The Dialect and Folklore of Northamptonshire'.

Can you guess the correct definition from the following three options for the word nuddle

A) To walk with one's head stooped

B) Someone who feasts or lives upon the industry of others

C) To poke around with one's nose, as dogs do

Answer at the bottom of the page.

If you mean business it all starts here

Northampton is one of the best locations in the UK to start up a small business according to research compiled by AAT (Association of Accounting Technicians).

AAT examined information from 64 cities across the UK to determine the best location to start a business in, cross referencing data from seven key criteria including the density of small and medium sized businesses in the area, quality of broadband connectivity, the amount of small businesses closures, property prices, and even pollution levels.

Northampton rated highly for having a relatively large number of small businesses opening in the area.

Warner Edwards is a craft distillery based on a family farm in Harrington, Northamptonshire which was set up in 2012 and produces craft gin. As a business whose gin that has won medals all over the world, Warner Edwards is one of the successful businesses that have given Northampton its high ranking in AAT's list.

Co-founder Tom Warner said: "Northamptonshire is like the crossroads of the UK."

The day we went Back to the Future

Lawrence John discovers the excitement behind 21.10.2015 – Back to the Future day

It was Back to the Future Day last Wednesday.

This is the day when Marty McFly would arrive at 4.29pm in Doc Brown's time travelling DeLorean coming from October 26 1985 to arrive in the future.

This future being Wednesday, October 21, 2015.

This notable date has been made famous by the Back to the Future Part II in which after repairing the damage to history done by his previous time travel adventures, Marty McFly (Michael J Fox) and his friend Dr. Emmett "Doc" Brown (Christopher Lloyd) travel to 2015 to prevent McFly's future son from ending up imprisoned.

However, their presence allows Biff Tannen (Thomas F Wilson) to steal Doc's DeLorean time machine and travel to 1955, where he alters history by making his younger self wealthy.

When Marty and Doc return to the 1985 to which they return has changed dramatically: Biff has become wealthy and corrupt, and has changed Hill Valley into a chaotic dystopia. Marty's father, George, was killed in 1973, and Biff has forced Marty's mother, Lorraine, to marry him. Doc has been committed to an insane asylum.

TIMELESS CLASSIC: Back to the Future . Below – Dr Michael Starr

Giving his thoughts about Back to the Future films, Dr Michael Starr, Lecturer in Film & Screen Studies at the University of Northampton, said the cultural significance of Back to the Future was it used a common theme of time travel which can be seen through human history and especially the history of film.

He said: "In 1895 H G Wells published The Time Machine and this coincided with the birth of the film, the first moving pictures. What Back to the Future does well is it does not take itself too seriously and uses sci-fi references through the story.

"It allows Marty to make a personal journey through time as his story is the story of his family. It turns the DeLorean car into a Time Machine like the phone box in Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure or the police box in Doctor Who.

"When I first saw Back to the Future Part I, I was 10 years old and it blew me away. I think this has been the main reason why have written about time travel.

"This film is indirectly responsible for this.

The Friars Academy in Wellingborough, which is a special school for SEN students ranging from 11 to 18 year olds, has gone Back to

The Future this week.

Assistant Headteacher, Dan Gay explained this week all the lessons at the school have been taught using the Back to the Future films.

The teachers have taken different elements from the trilogy of films and have incorporated themes such as history, time travel, inventions etc into the lessons.

One of the surprise highlights for the pupils came on Wednesday when a DeLorean, similar to the one used in the film, visited the school.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Special retires

A Northants Police officer has retired after dedicating 14 years of volunteer service to the force. Builder by day and special constable by night, Tony Alcock first joined the force in June 2001, and was based at Albion House. He then moved to Campbell Square in 2003, before moving to Weston Favell where he has stayed for the last decade.

Pup quarantined

A four-month-old puppy from Slovakia has been taken into quarantine by Northants County Council's trading standards service after it was illegally imported into the UK without being vaccinated against rabies.

£10,500 fine for food 'only safe for pets'

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Northants company director has been fined £10,500 after he was found guilty of holding frozen meat in the human supply chain when it was safe only for pet food.

Northampton Magistrates' Court heard how 16 pallets of food found in a cold store by Environmental Health Officers from Daventry District Council (DDC) was past its use-by date and lacked the proper paperwork tracing its origin.

The meat - a selection of chicken, beef and pork products - was only suitable for use in the pet food industry, the court heard.

But despite being unsafe for human consumption it was acquired by Northampton-based Chrysalis Enterprises Ltd, and illegally placed in the cold store.

Before the court was the firm's sole director, Ben Loeber, who was convicted following a two-day trial of three offences under the Food Safety and Hygiene Regulations.

Mr Loeber, whose business is based in Henry Bird Way, Northampton but registered in High Street South, Dunstable, received the maximum £5,000 fine for placing on the market unsafe food and a further £5,000 fine for failing to establish its traceability. He was also fined £500 for failing to withdraw it from the market, and ordered to pay legal costs of £10,000 and a £120 victim surcharge. He was cleared of three other charges of placing on the market quantities of 'pigs-in-blanket' sausages and unsmoked dry cured bacon contrary to Food Safety and Hygiene Regulations.

Cllr Mike Warren, Health and Housing Portfolio Holder at Daventry District Council, said: "This was unsafe food that could have entered the human food chain without our intervention."

Once more with emulsion

A woman stood in the middle of Northampton town centre and covered herself in paint - in a quirky stunt to raise awareness of disability.

Grace Potter, a 19-year-old University of Northampton student, took to Abington Street at 1pm yesterday to make her bright and messy statement. And just metres away from where she stood was her 20-year-old friend Daniella Straud, who was filming Grace with a camera.

Explaining the story behind the paint stunt, dance student Grace told the Northants

Herald and Post: "We are filming for a screen dance project about how the body is perceived in society when you have a disability or mental illness.

"When people look at someone with a disability, they look at them in a different way and don't accept them into society as they have a bit missing. But I think they should be treated equally."

Grace said the different coloured paints covered different types of illnesses, with red meaning HIV and aids, and green meaning depression.

Grade II listed detached family home in a selected village location

YOUR MOVE
Hobin Roberts

Your next property could be a page turn away!

Wootton
£ 450,000
Situated in the heart of the conservation area in Wootton Village is this stone under slate barn conversion. One of the original farm buildings and hayloft, this Grade II Listed, stone, detached home stands in a select development of just six, individually-designed properties. The owner has occupied 'The Barn' since it was converted in 1999, it retains much of its original character, including vaulted ceilings and exposed A-frame beams, with oak, lift-latch, panelled doors. The property is approached by a gravelled drive, with a single garage and stone-set paved parking for several cars. There are gardens to the front, side and rear, planted with a range of shrubs and trees. Steps, which led to the original hayloft, have been retained as a feature of the property's farm heritage. Call Your Move Hobin Roberts on 01604 633272 to arrange a viewing.

What Your Agent Has To Say

Does your agent list on Rightmove and Zoopla?

A number of estate agents across the UK are removing their listed properties from one of the most well-known property portals – either Rightmove or Zoopla. The effect is that their sellers and landlords are losing at least 31% of potential buyers and tenants online.

At Your Move Hobin Roberts we will not be removing our properties from either website. 1.9million buyers and tenants visit both Rightmove and Zoopla to find property, but 1.9 million only visit Zoopla, and 2.1 million only use Rightmove. If a property is not listed on one of these portals, it will lose one in three potential views online.

That's one in three buyers certain not to see your property when they search in your area.

What if the right buyer – the person who's ready to move and can match the asking price – is amongst them?

Instead, these agents plan to list property on a new portal. So far this portal has not been tested on the active market.

Who knows how it will fare with buyers?

Don't say goodbye to buyers. Say hello to Your Move Hobin Roberts. We'll list your property on Rightmove AND Zoopla and also the most visited estate agency website in the UK – your-move.co.uk.

To discuss how Your Move Hobin Roberts will market your home to all buyers, call Area Manager Sam Throw on 01604 633272.

We are lucky in this area with a range of productions at local theatres offering exciting celebrities, good stories and most of all loads of fun.

You will also find ideas for gifts, food and drink and great ways to celebrate throughout the guide.

And if that isn't enough to make your taste buds tingle you could be a winner with our festive competition.

Most of all we want you to have a good time getting ready for Christmas, so enjoy this supplement - there will be another coming soon - and may we be the first to offer you the compliments of the season!

iLOVE CHRISTMAS PANTO HISTORY

'It's behind you!'

A look at the history of pantomime

How did pantomime become the marvellous (if eccentric) form of entertainment it is today? And how did it become part of Christmas? We take a look at the colourful origins of this unique tradition:

PANTOMIME is a dynamic art form that is as much influenced as much by current affairs and political activities as it is by its original purpose, to dramatise the mystical events of Christmas. Nowadays, it is a uniquely British form of entertainment found nowhere else in the world.

But oddly, it appears to have originally derived from traditional Italian entertainment.

Early pantos were stylised productions containing certain very recognisable characters, in what was what we should term today, a 'classical Harlequinade' with traceable pagan origins.

The Harlequin, messenger of the gods, could be recognised by his wand and winged cap. Some pantomimes even contained a Punch-like figure, though a more friendly character than one encounters in the classic Punch and Judy show. Then called Mr. 'Ponch', he was apparently also known in Roman times under the name of Maccus. These early pantos were full of satire and featured some pretty racy scenes.

But the British theatre-goer would not have recognised the Italian original in the rather less boisterous British version.

Where British performances favour daft jokes, slapstick and a sprinkling of innuendo, the Italian entertainment itself had its roots way back in the early Middle Ages and performers were held in high esteem.

It was David Garrick, an 18th century actor-manager from London, who recognised the festive potential of this quirky dramatic form. "If they won't come to Lear and Hamlet", he famously said, "I must give them Harlequin". In order to avoid criticism from his peers and maintain a reputation, Garrick set about changing pantomime's cultural identity, partly by limiting Drury Lane pantomimes to the Christmas season.

Pantomimes became associated with the fun and frivolity of the holiday season rather than being denounced as a threat. In doing so, Garrick created a convention which has survived to this day.

It's not just families who enjoy these fun-filled spectacles – the festive panto has become popular amongst celebrities keen to get their glad rags on. Soap stars such as Barbara Windsor are regularly seen touring the country alongside other household names such as David Hasselhoff and Lily Savage.

i LOVE CHRISTMAS PANTO

It's that time of the year again – oh yes, it is - with just the carving of the pumpkins and the popping of fireworks left to come, which means Christmas is well and truly on the horizon.

And for theatre folk, Christmas means one thing and one thing only... PANTO SEASON (and the mince pies and mulled wine, of course).

But for many of you, finding a panto and deciding which one to go to is never an easy task.

So we have taken the liberty of making it all a little easier for you, by putting together a guide of pantos in and around our region - including Northamptonshire, Bedfordshire, Milton Keynes and Cambridge.

This year's offerings, listed below, include the fairy tale of Cinderella (in three theatres across our region!), a certain Beauty and a Beast, Jack and the Beanstalk and Aladdin.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE

Royal and Derngate theatre: Cinderella

The famous rags-to-riches fairy tale will be brought magically to life by a wonderful cast led by actor, dancer, singer and television presenter John Partridge (EastEnders). He is joined by CBeebies legend Sid Sloane, as well as impressionist Danny Posthuij and vocalist Alison Jlear, both fresh from their appearance on this year's Britain's Got Talent.

Packed with all of the traditional Royal & Derngate pantomime ingredients its audiences have come to expect, Cinderella features stunning scenery, plenty of boos and hisses, incredible music and dancing, plus Pegasus, the amazing flying horse - all of which will ensure that you will have a ball!

When: December 11, 2015 - January 3, 2016

Tickets: From £11 - £28

Book: Visit <http://www.royalandderngate.co.uk/> or call 01604 624811.

The Deco theatre: Beauty and The Beast

This spellbinding all family pantomime is full of music, magic and mayhem, special effects, breathtaking sets, loads of laughs and lavish costumes.

The Deco's magical pantomime tells the story of Beauty, the beautiful daughter of the mayor of the town Stoney-broke. She longs for romance excitement and adventure, but little does she realise they will come when she becomes the prisoner of a monstrous Beast in return for her father's freedom.

The Beast (really a handsome Prince) must learn to love and be loved – only then will he regain his true form and live – yes you've guessed it – happily ever after but he must do this before the last petal of an enchanted rose falls or he will be forever a beast!

Coronation Street's Nick Cochrane (Andy McDonald) will play Silly Billy, X factor finalist Lydia Lucy will be Beauty, Hollyoaks' Karl James Wilson will perform as the Beast/Prince, and Emmerdale and Midsummer Murder's Tony Howes will play Nurse Jackie O lala.

When: December 11, 2015 - December 29, 2015

Tickets: From £15.50 - £20.50

Book: Visit www.thedeco.co.uk or call 01604 622749.

Kettering Lighthouse theatre: Jack and the Beanstalk.

Fee-Fi-Fo Fum....he's 12ft tall with a hairy ... beard, and we don't mean Dame Trott! Join intrepid Jack on the adventure of a lifetime as he bounds up the beanstalk to do battle with Giant Blunderbore. Does Dame Trott finally get her man? Can Simple Simon work out which end of the cow needs milking?

Find out in a Pantomime that scales new heights, with a spectacular stomping giant, fabulous live band and all the magic and mayhem of a traditional Christmas.

Starring Corley Stenson (Hollyoaks and Legally Blonde), Steven Pinder (Brookside) and Kevin Pallister (Emmerdale)

When: December 11, 2015 - January 3, 2016

Tickets: From £14.50

Wellingborough Castle: A Christmas Carol

Ebenezer Scrooge is a mean old man and he doesn't believe in Christmas. He doesn't have time for family and friends, in fact he'd rather spend the season alone at home, counting his money. Well, this year we're going to show mean old Ebenezer Scrooge what he's been missing... Winter is cold and stories are told to warm the heart. This Christmas, The Castle presents an exciting, gloriously entertaining and genuinely heart-warming new adaptation of Charles Dickens' classic story. Packed with songs and jokes and festive shenanigans, spooks and surprises, it's a tall tale with a truly uplifting message for the festive season. Ebenezer Scrooge is not bad man, not really. He used to be a good man and, with our help, he will be again... A Christmas Carol is a musical fantasy for all the family, silly enough for grown-ups and smart enough for children of all ages.

When: December 7, 2015 - December 29, 2015

All will be revealed this Christmas, in the spectacular pantomime, Cinderella. Blue's Antony Costa stars as Prince Charming, and he will be joined on stage by CBBC presenter, YouTube sensation and comedian Mawaan Rizwan, who will be playing Buttons.

With a fabulous five piece band, stunning sets and costumes, and all the laughs and traditions that panto entails, you won't want to miss out.

MILTON KEYNES

Milton Keynes theatre: Aladdin

The former wife of Elvis Presley and world-renowned actress Priscilla Presley will be making dreams come true for Dallas fans and starring as Genie of the Lamp in Milton Keynes Theatre's Christmas pantomime Aladdin this year. Oh yes she is!

Joining Priscilla is comedian Gary Wilmot in Old Peking as the Chinese Laundry owner, Widow Twankey.

Dance world legend Wayne Sleep OBE brings his own choreographic Genie-us to the show as the Genie of the Ring.

Meanwhile, singer/songwriter ex A1 boyband member and BRIT award winner Ben Adams will be taking the lead role as Aladdin himself.

Aladdin audiences can bank on sensational songs played by a live band, dazzling dance routines, side-splitting slapsstick comedy and bags of audience participation.

Customer Reviews

"As far as we are concerned Millers dealt with the sale of the property in a most professional way."

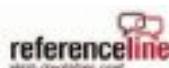

"You went over and above our expectations in ensuring everything was in place and we moved on the date we aimed for. Your professionalism and manner were second to none, and we would have no hesitation in recommending your services to others going on the property ladder."

"Thank you Matthew. You have been brilliant, I would highly recommend you to friends or family wanting to sell or looking to buy a home."

"We recently completed the purchase of our property through Millers Estate Agents. It was a very positive experience from start to finish and our expectations were managed perfectly. Carl Myers was very professional and we particularly appreciated his frequent updates on the progress of the sale. Nothing was too much trouble. The whole process was a very refreshing and stress free experience. We would not hesitate to use Millers again when looking for a property or selling."

"Despite not being a great lover of estate agents Millers were a pleasure to work with and would definitely use them in the future."

Have a blast and win Bonfire Night tickets

GUNPOWDER PLOT: Grab your chance to win tickets to sparkling event

The Herald and Post has teamed up with Boughton House, theatre company METRO-BOULOT-DODO and Northamptonshire County Council to give readers the chance to experience the spectacle of performance, projection and pyrotechnics at the home of Bonfire Night.

The historic House near Kettering will become the backdrop to the retelling of the thrilling story of Northamptonshire's infamous conspirators for three nights this November.

And audiences will learn about Edward, First Lord Montagu of Boughton House, who was central to setting in motion the tradition we know as Bonfire Night through his sponsorship, in Parliament, of the Observance of 5th November Act 1605.

Three winners will each win a pair of tickets to one of the upcoming performances on November 5, 6 and 7 by correctly answering the following question:

Where is The Gunpowder Plot taking place?

A) Boughton House
B) Buckingham Palace
Tweet your answer to @NorthamptonHP.

We will select three people who tweet the correct answer to be the lucky winners of the competition. The competition will be drawn on Friday, October 30, and winners will be notified on that date.

Wrap up warm and enjoy the pre-event entertainment ahead of the spectacular main show. With illuminations, fire shows, atmospheric music, food and drink, you're in for a treat.

Tickets are on sale from Royal and Derngate (www.royalanddergate.co.uk) priced at £12.50 per adult and £8 for concessions. Gates open at 6.30pm with the main show at 7.30pm.

DON'T MISS THIS

FRIDAY

Dr. Fright's Halloween Nights

The award winning, all indoor, one of a kind Halloween event is back with an all new show for you to experience: American Nightmares. It features live action scare mazes Amityville, A Nightmare On Main Street, Hollywood Horror and The Grindhouse: Carny Carnage. Tickets can be booked online from www.drfrights.com and range from £15.95 - £19.95.

You usually find mention of the set design for a new theatre production much further down in a review, but in Gaslight at Northampton's Royal Theatre the stage is the first star you lay eyes on. With the action confined to the classic 'one-room-in-a-period-setting', it's a tough job to be original.

But William Dudley and the Royal's set-production team have created a stunningly clever Ames Room – one of those that alters your perception of the things within it – which perfectly reflects the theme of the play: manipulation of someone's mind to make them doubt their own sanity...or Gaslighting.

Tara Fitzgerald is exquisite as the vulnerable, bullied Bella Manningham, running the gauntlet in her own house between her domineering husband Jack, played menacingly by Jonathan Firth (I was two-thirds through before I recognized him as Colin's brother), the servants, and her own sanity. Is her encounter with her apparent saviour, the rosy-cheeked Inspector Rough (Paul Hunter), just another example of her mind playing tricks?

No spoilers: You'll have to go and see for yourselves.

Gaslight, a Made in Northampton production, runs at Royal & Derngate until November 7. Visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk Powered by a new, specifically developed, 3.0-litre straight-six engine with BMW TwinPower Turbo technology, the latest product from BMW produces a formidable 370hp, enabling an electronically-limited top speed of 155mph. When equipped with the optional seven-speed M DCT gearbox, the M2 can sprint from rest to 62mph in just 4.3 seconds.

This level of performance is expressed visually via unique enhancements to the base 2 Series Coupé body, majoring on style but also reflecting the aerodynamic, cooling and chassis requirements of the new car. The BMW M engineers have worked tirelessly to reduce weight wherever possible, improve rigidity and hone the M2's responses via sophisticated chassis technology and electronics to deliver a truly rewarding drive.

The six-cylinder engine of the new BMW M2 is entirely in keeping with the finest BMW M tradition. It offers unbeatable driving fun on a racing circuit, yet remains completely civilised in everyday use. With an appetite for revs not normally associated with a turbocharged engine, it features an exceptionally linear power delivery and strong torque across a broad rev range, all delivered with a distinctive engine sound. Rapid responses and excellent efficiency are amongst the benefits of BMW's innovative M TwinPower Turbo technology.

The new 3.0-litre engine possesses an output of 370hp at 6,500rpm and will rev to 7,000rpm, while peak torque of 465Nm is on tap between 1,400 and 5,560rpm.

The new BMW M2 comes as standard with a six-speed manual gearbox, featuring dry-sump lubrication and an engagement speed control function that blips the throttle on downshifts and lowers the engine's revs on upshifts.

The car continues the tradition of the legendary original BMW M3 – the E30 from 1986 – famed for its blend of agility and precision, as well as its supremacy on the racing circuit and rally stage. Looking further back, the M2 can also be seen as a close descendant of a car from 40 years ago: the BMW 2002 turbo, which was the first mass-produced turbocharged car offered for sale in Germany.

SsangYong Tivoli Take a look inside...

The SsangYong Tivoli takes the fight to compact crossovers like the Nissan Juke and the Renault Captur with budget pricing, a gutsy 125PS engine and build quality the like of which you wouldn't credit at this price point. As long as SsangYong can promote this car effectively, it could be their breakthrough vehicle.

The Koreans certainly haven't done things by halves here. This is no cut-down Korando chassis with a bunch of ancient carry-over engines. The Tivoli has had some serious investment thrown at it, and it shows.

The chassis is all-new, albeit hardly adventurous in its suspension design, with MacPherson struts up front and a space-efficient torsion beam rear end. There's a choice of two 1.6-litre engines, a 128PS petrol unit and a 115PS diesel. Buyers can select either 2WD or 4WD model variants and prices start affordably from around £13,000.

The 1.6 petrol unit will get to 62mph in a relatively relaxed 12 seconds and is offered as standard with a six-speed manual gearbox. Pay a little more and you can pair this engine with a six-speed automatic, which is the same unit as seen in the latest MINI, albeit with a bit less sportiness built into the shift logic. Longer term plans could well see three and four-cylinder turbocharged powerplants find their way into the Tivoli. Other items of note? SsangYong's introducing a selectable weight steering system with Comfort, Normal and Sport settings and some surprisingly big wheels. Go for the smaller alloys if you value ride quality.

The Tivoli is one of those cars that the longer you look at it, the more design influences you can see. There's something of the Kia Soul in its overall proportioning, with a Nissan Juke-like rear haunch, a front end that's modern Renault in a good way,

Nor indeed is it a cheap looking one. The detailing such as the floating effect roof, the satin roof rails and the materials quality of the interior are at least as good as, if not better than, many of its mainstream rivals. The cabin certainly feels as if it's been the recipient of better quality dash panels and seats than, say, a Nissan Juke. The boot measures 423-litres to the parcel shelf, which is perfectly adequate in this class. The big players in this sector might not be worried yet, but SsangYong here delivers some wholly convincing arguments as to why that won't always be so.

MOTORING NEWS

Ferrari reveals the F12tdf

Ferrari has revealed the F12tdf which pays homage to the Tour de France, the legendary endurance road race that Ferrari dominated in the 1950s and '60s, particularly with the 1956 250 GT Berlinetta which won four consecutive editions. It was a race that rewarded cars that combined maximum performance with the driveability and ease of use that enabled the competitors to race for hundreds of kilometres a day over fast, tortuous roads and on circuits. The F12tdf is the ultimate expression of the concept of an extreme road car that is equally at home on the track, and just 799 will be built.

The sixth generation of the BMW 7 Series is announced

The sixth generation of the BMW 7 Series is a true flagship of the BMW range, blending comfort, style, dynamic ability and cutting edge technology in equal measure to create an inspiring mode of luxury transport. Thanks to the intelligent use of multiple materials in the construction of the body, including carbon-fibre reinforced plastic (CFRP) for the Carbon Core, the new BMW 7 Series is both stronger and up to 130kg lighter than its predecessor. This advanced construction is complemented by six-cylinder petrol and diesel engines taken from the latest generation of BMW power units.

Anyone wishing to send comments should note that responses will be published on a publicly-accessible website in due course, but the names, addresses and signatures of individuals will not be published. As it is not possible for the substance of responses to be checked to ascertain whether they contain other personal data, you should not include information in your response that could identify you unless you are content for it to be made public.

If you do not want any of your response to be published you should clearly mark it as "Confidential" in the "subject" of the email or at the top of your letter. However please note the following two paragraphs.

If you want the information you provide to be treated as confidential, you should be aware that all information provided in response to this consultation, including personal information, may be subject to disclosure in accordance with access to information regimes (these are primarily the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004). Under the FOIA, there is a statutory Code of Practice with which public authorities must comply and which deals, amongst other things, with confidentiality obligations. In view of this it would be helpful if you could explain in your response why you regard the information you have provided as confidential. If a request for disclosure of the information you provide is received full account will be taken of your explanation, but no assurance can be given that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances. An automatic confidentiality disclaimer generated by your IT system will not, of itself, be regarded as binding on the Department for Transport or HS2 Ltd.

Please note that all responses received, whether marked Confidential or not, will be passed on in full to the Houses of Parliament and their appointed Assessor, who will analyse the responses and make a report to Parliament. That report will not contain your personal data.

Submitting comments to the Secretary of State does not affect the entitlement of persons to make objections to the proposed Amendments by depositing a petition in the House of Commons referred to below.

The Bill has been introduced in the House of Commons as a public Bill. In the House of Commons, by the terms of the Order made by that House, objection to the proposed Amendments may be made by depositing a Petition against them in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than the end of the period of four weeks beginning with the day on which the first newspaper notice of the Amendments is published. Any such Petition must therefore be deposited in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than 2pm on Friday 13 November 2015.

In the House of Lords, objection to the Bill may be made by depositing a Petition against it in the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, and the latest date for depositing such a petition against the Bill may be subject to an Order made by that House or, if no Order is made, will be the tenth day after that on which the Bill receives its First reading in that House. In the latter case, if this date is a Sunday, Christmas Day or Bank Holiday, or a day on which the House does not sit, the final date for depositing may be postponed.

Information about the deposit of such Petitions may be obtained from either the Private Bill Office, House of Commons or the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, House of Lords, or from the undermentioned Parliamentary Agents.

How teams shape up for another bruising season

AVIVA PREMIERSHIP PREVIEW

BY MATT WRIGHT

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

The Northampton Saints are looking for their second Aviva Premiership title in three seasons. However, the competition remains stiff as several other teams look to topple defending champions Saracens, who we start with in our run through the teams.

Also, for the Saints fans who love to follow their side across the country, we've included links to each club's ticket office.

SARACENS

Mark McCall's men ransacked the Saints at Franklin's Gardens in last season's semi-final before claiming their second league title by defeating Bath 28-16 at Twickenham.

Sarries continue to have one of the strongest squads in the country and know how to adapt their game plan to the opposition so will be hard to topple.

■ Tickets: www.eticketing.co.uk/saracens/ or 0844 847 1846

BATH

Moneybags owner Bruce Craig will want some return on his investment after last year's runners-up finish.

With creator-in-chief George Ford, Bath are arguably the most potent side in the division, capable of springing from anywhere on the pitch on a good day.

■ Tickets: www.bathrugby.com/tickets/ or 0844 448 1865

EXETER CHIEFS

It will be interesting to see how one of the division's success stories cope with not just competing in the European Champions Cup but also with the increased expectation at Sandy Park.

Signed Geoff Parling from Leicester looks a shrewd move and we may be seeing more players follow the likes of Jack Nowell and Henry Slade into the England set-up.

■ Tickets: www.exeterchiefs.co.uk/match/

GLoucester

It's been a fallow couple of years for the Cherry and Whites that has seen two ninth-place finishes while their support had to look enviously at the rise great rivals Bath.

The signings from last year have now had a season to bed in and the Shed faithful have every right to expect the team to look far more coherent this time around.

■ Tickets: www.gloscesterrugby.co.uk/tickets/ or 0871 871 8781

HARLEQUINS

There's been a rebuilding job at The Stoop during the summer after what was a disappointing year for Quins, who had got used to competing at the top.

Welsh duo Jamie Roberts and Adam Jones have both signed on and Australian lock James Horwill adds ballast to their pack in what looks a stronger squad.

■ Tickets: www.tickets.quins.co.uk/ or 020 8410 6010

LEICESTER TIGERS

The old enemy will, as ever, have a say at the top, but the air of invincibility about them has drifted away and they no longer start campaigns as favourites.

Expect a titanic battle from them up front as always, however, as well as two gripping contests between the two – January 9th at Welford Road can't come soon enough.

■ Tickets: www.leicestertigers.com/tickets/tickets.php or 0116 319 8888

LONDON IRISH

The Exiles have been tipped to struggle again and they will certainly have to plug what has been a leaky defence for the last few seasons.

All Blacks prop Ben Franks and Scotland winger Sean Maitland have both signed up at the Madejski Stadium and new coach Tom Coventry is determined to prove the doubters wrong.

■ Tickets: www.london-irish.com/ticket-hub/242/ or 0118 968 1016

NEWCASTLE FALCONS

Dean Richards knows how to play the long game and last season saw the Falcons add an attacking dimension not seen at Kingston Park for years with their 4G pitch coming in handy.

Winger Sinoti Sinoti will be looking to wreak havoc again this year while Mike Delany has been signed from Clermont Auvergne to fill the shoes of Jimmy Gopperth.

■ Tickets: www.newcastlefalcons.co.uk/Pages/Tickets/in... or 0871 226 6060

SAF SHARKS

Unlikely to challenge for the title, but capable of giving any side a bloody nose on their day and they will have a familiar face in their front row in ex-Saint Brian Mujati.

There's also an interesting pairing at half-back, where Danny Cipriani will look to show England why they were wrong to leave him out of their World Cup squad playing behind old head Peter Stringer.

■ Tickets: www.salesharks.com/tickets/ or 0844 994 9944

WASPS

Last year felt like a breakthrough for Wasps as they left behind Adams Park for the grander surroundings of the Ricoh Arena and confounded cynics by drawing in excellent crowds.

A top-four finish isn't out of the question for Dai Young's men and they have recruited strongly by bringing in New Zealand winger Charles Piutau and Australia legend George Smith among others.

■ Tickets: www.eticketing.co.uk/wasps/default.aspx or 02476 786 411

WORCESTER WARRIORS

Dean Ryan guided the Warriors back into the top flight at the first time of asking in the most dramatic fashion as Chris Pennell's last-gasp try saw off Bristol in the Championship play-off final.

Pennell is back at the level he belongs, but it is difficult to see anything but a season of struggle at Sixways despite the addition of old Northampton favourite Phil Dowson and them getting one over on the Saints in dramatic fashion in their opening fixture.

Day is keen to lock down his place at Northampton

SAINTS

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

There is plenty of competition for places at Northampton Saints this season, none more so than in the second row, but lock Christian Day is looking forward to the challenge.

The 32-year-old has forged a strong partnership in the Saints' engine room with England international Courtney Lawes in recent years, but has a task ahead of him to remain first choice.

South Africa legend Victor Matfield was Northampton's most high-profile signing of the summer and his arrival at Franklin's Gardens is imminent at the end of the Rugby World Cup draws near.

Michael Paterson also arrived at the club during the off-season from Sale Sharks and he made his debut alongside Day in the disappointing 13-12 defeat to Worcester Warriors last Friday.

Day said: "The club obviously had the opportunity to sign a player who doesn't need much introduction in Victor Matfield, who is a world-class operator.

"He's hugely experienced and I'm looking forward to seeing how he operates and how he plays and look at one or two things at my old age that I can use to develop myself."

"I think you've got to be honest with yourself about the situation and why players are being recruited. The whole of the squad goes through an end-of-season debrief and most of the stuff said to me was positive, but if the coaches want to bring in another player in my position I've got to take that as a challenge and try and keep on performing."

Northampton have the chance to get their campaign properly off and running as they welcome Newcastle Falcons on Saturday in what is their first 'home' game of the campaign.

The match is being played in Milton Keynes as the final touches are put to the new Barwell Stand at Franklin's Gardens.

Day unsurprisingly is looking for

BIG PRESENCE: Christian Day has played a huge part in the Saints' second row in the last couple of seasons a much improved display throughout the team after last week's loss, adding: "We were obviously disappointed with the result.

"I'm not taking anything away from Worcester who performed very well on the night, but we were pretty blunt in attack to be honest and didn't deserve the win that we very nearly snatched."

"Playing home games, particularly at stadiummk where we have a fantastic record, we not so much expect to win, but against Newcastle we'll be all guns blazing at the weekend coming off the loss away. They've started to add some real firepower with the likes of Sinoti Sinoti, Alex Tuilagi and Mikw Delany, who is a fantastic player at fly-half so they're on an upward trend."

■ The Wanderers got their season off to a stunning start as they ran in 11 tries to thrash Cambridge University 71-12 at Grange Road on Monday night.

It was a match that saw several of Northampton's new boys catch the eye with fly-half JJ Hanrahan scoring two tries. Tom Kessell and Luke Eves were to also cross the whitewash as the visitors had too much for their opponents.

Samoan full back Ahsee Tuala ran in their fifth before Howard Packman scored a wonderful individual try with a run that took him all of 70 metres.

The points kept on flowing in the second half as Alex Moon and Pat Howard added their names to the growing list of scorers.

Further scores by Tom Hobbs-Awoyemi, Alex Mitchell and George Furbank were to then complete the rout.

Dreams of Home Nations go South

SO CLOSE: Scotland lost out at the death

RUGBY WORLD CUP

All four quarter finals last weekend were remarkable in their own way, and they have given us a semi-final line-up that has the Northern Hemisphere teams fretting for their future after their hopes were brought to varying ends.

It sadly brought George North's World Cup to an end, although the Northampton Saints wing was to have his most prominent game in the competition as Wales were edged out 23-19 by South Africa at Twickenham.

In the end, they were knocked out by a piece of brilliance with five minutes left as Duane Vermeulen's wondrous off-load allowed Fourie du Preez to score in the corner.

It means that Victor Matfield is the only Saint left in the tournament and he will take his place on the bench for the Springboks' mouth-watering semi-final with New Zealand.

The All Blacks' performance in their nine-try 62-13 humiliation of France has rightly been labelled as a master class with Richie McCaw and Dan Carter rolling back the years in Cardiff.

In a way, it was a fitting end to what has been four wasted years for France under head coach Philippe Saint-Andre.

Ireland's vast horde of supporters in the Millennium Stadium were then left stunned as they were blitzed at the beginning and end of their match with Argentina, who ran out 43-20 winners.

Last but by no means least, arguably the greatest quarter final in Rugby World Cup history as Bernard Foley's last-minute controversial penalty gave Australia a 35-34 victory over Scotland in an absolute epic at Twickenham.

The tournament now becomes a boiled-down version of The Rugby Championship, but what a finale we have on our hands.

Cobblers give fans perfect tonic

THREE POINTS: (clockwise from above) Calvert-Lewin shows his delight after scoring his second, Nicky Adams was terrific down the left wing while Zander Diamond heads away bravely

CARLISLE UNITED	2

BY MATT WRIGHT

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DOMINIC Calvert-Lewin scored twice on his return to the starting line-up as Northampton Town got back to winning ways by coming from behind in an entertaining game against Carlisle United.

It's so often said that goals change games and this was perfectly illustrated at Sixfields as Calvert-Lewin's equaliser came when Cobblers were looking unsteady and they never looked back.

The hosts were impressive for much of the second half, with Nicky Adams on the left wing playing particularly well, and the result lifts them up to fifth in League Two. The club's off-field problems are well documented and while it is a little hard to believe that it hasn't affected the players, it is to their immense credit that a good run of only one defeat in eight games should coincide with such a turbulent period behind the scenes.

Calvert-Lewin for the suspended Lawson D'Ath was the only alteration from Saturday's defeat at Cambridge and the Cobblers started on the front foot with John-Joe O'Toole having a long-range shot deflected wide.

The visitors' first real opportunity came in the 25th minute as Macaulay Gillespie played the ball left to Danny Grainger, whose low cross was sent just wide by ex-Town striker Derek Asamoah at the near post.

But Carlisle were soon ahead as Joel Byrom was caught in possession outside his own area by Jason Kennedy and he quickly played in Alex Gilliead, who finished first-time into the bottom corner.

Adam Smith then prevented his team from falling 2-0 down as a long ball forward put Asamoah through one-on-one, but the Northampton keeper made a good block with his left arm.

When Asamoah sent a shot crashing against the outside of the post from 25 yards it was looking as though the Cobblers would be happy to reach half-time.

However, they went into it level as Calvert-Lewin headed in at the back post after Gillespie got caught right underneath Adams' corner.

The game was then turned on its head in the second minute of the second half as Sam Hoskins' effort took a massive deflection and Mark

Gillespie could only watch the ball loop into his net.

Northampton were to double their lead after 63 minutes as the visitors again failed to deal with an Adams corner and Calvert-Lewin was there to pounce from close range at the far post.

Smith then preserved his side's two-goal cushion as he did well to push out Joe Thompson's angled drive with eight minutes left before a few nerves were set jangling in stoppage time.

A deep free kick was headed on by Thompson and fellow substitute Charlie Wyke prodded the ball past Smith, but the hosts held on.

The rewards for those who persevere far exceed the pain that must precede the victory – Ted Engstrom

Hoskins happy to reward Town fans

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

Northampton Town came from behind to defeat Carlisle 3-2 on Tuesday night and midfielder Sam Hoskins admitted Dominic Calvert-Lewin's equaliser came at just the right time for them.

It meant the Cobblers went into the half-time break in a much better frame of mind after they had initially fallen behind to Alex Gilliead's opener and, in truth, they could have conceded more in the period that followed.

Town were able to then build on this platform and lift the spirits of their fans, who have had to look on in bewilderment as their club has lurched into crisis after crisis off the field.

Hoskins gave Northampton the lead, albeit in fortuitous fashion, as his shot took a huge deflection two minutes into the second half, during which his side played with greater confidence.

He said: "The first goal came at a good time for us, just before half-time, but I think we started the game quite well without generating clear-cut chances to score."

"Then, after going one down, it was a bit of a hill to climb. We dug deep and stuck together and the main thing was that we got the result."

"It was obviously good to get on the score sheet, but more importantly it got us into a lead and we pushed on from there."

It was an impressive result for Northampton against a Carlisle side that had only previously lost once away from home this season, and it was one that allowed them to move above the Cumbrians in the League Two table and into fifth.

It was also the perfect way to bounce back from last Saturday's defeat to Cambridge. Even if events off the pitch continue to fill the fans with worry, at least the players are doing their all to maintain momentum on it.

Hoskins said: "It was a good performance from the team and the most important thing is to reward the fans because on Saturday it was disappointing for a lot of them that travelled to Cambridge."

"Tonight was a big thing for us to show them that we needed to get a result and say thank you to them."
